

The Daily Courant.

Friday, October 4. 1706.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated October 5.

Leipsich, September 24.

OUR Magestrates having represented to the King of Sweden, that this City was unable to furnish 150000 Crowns (which we said in one of our former he had demanded,) his Majesty answer'd that he would be content with 100000, provided it were paid him within 3 Days; which we shall do to prevent military Execution. We have confirm'd Advice, that a Detachment of 4000 Swedes going some Days ago in Pursuit of the Saxon Troops which retir'd from hence and several open Places of the Country, overtook them near Naumbourg and attack'd them; but that Gen. Schulenburg who commanded them, defended himself vigorously and repuls'd the Swedes with the Loss of 7 or 800 Men. 'Tis said King Augustus has sent Order to his Privy Council and to the States of this Electorate, to comply as far as possible with all the King of Sweden's Demands; that his Swedish Majesty may have no pretext to ruine the Country, but rather be induc'd to withdraw out of it.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Octob. 8.

Leipsich, Sept. 29. A Truce or Suspension of Arms in this Electorate is concluded for 10 Weeks, and has been proclaim'd here in the Names of the Kings of Sweden and Poland. 'Tis hop'd that in that Time an amicable Accommodation between those Princes will be treated of, on the Mediation of several Potentates. The Swedes, and especially the Walachians and Cossacks that serve among their Horse, have so consum'd the Forrage in the Country, that several Peasants have been forc'd to sell their Teams and Cattle at any Rate, and abandon their Dwellings for Want of Subsistence. But an Order is just publish'd in his Swedish Majesty's Name, for remedying those and other Disorders, the Tenour of it being a Prohibition to all Officers and Soldiers, to insult any Person whatever, or to take any thing by Violence out of Houses, Gardens, or Vineyards, upon Pain of corporal Punishment: And they are enjoyn'd by it to pay for all that they are furnish'd with by the Inhabitants of the Country. His Swedish Majesty has had his Head Quarters for 8 Days past, in a little Town two Leagues from hence, call'd Alt-Ranstat, in the Neighbourhood of Lutzen a Place famous for the Battle in which Gustavus Adolphus was slain in 1632. 'Tis reported his Swedish Majesty will remove to other Quarters to Morrow or next Day.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Oct. 5.

Francfort, Sept. 29. Yesterday Coll. Caunitz arriv'd here, to demand of the States of the Circle of the upper Rhine Passage for the Troops of Saxony commanded by General Schulenburg, who finding themselves too weak to make Head against the Swedes, have quitted their Country to reinforce the Army of the Empire commanded by General Thungen: Those Troops consist of 5 Regiments of Dragoons, and some Regiments of Foot, among whom are 2000 Muscovites. They were pursued by the Swedes to the Frontier of the Country of Wurzburg. Their Vanguard compos'd of the Regiments of Dragoons of Furstemberg, Dunewald, Wrangel, and Paci, being arriv'd near Geihausen, their Passage is granted, on Condition that they shall not form a separate Body, but march directly to joyn and act with the Army under General Thungen, that the King of Sweden may have no Pretext to pursue them further into the Empire.

From the Leid. and Amst. Gaz. dated Oct. 8.

A Letter from the Field-Marshal M. d'Auverquerque to Mr. Secretary Fagel.

Sir,

After we had made our selves Masters of the Cover'd Way of the Counterscarp, and while I was in the Approaches about 6 a Clock last Night, the Enemy beat a Parley, and sent out 2 Officers to demand an honourable Capitulation: I signified to them that they were to hope for no other Capitulation than to be receiv'd Prisoners of War, that out of Consideration for the Officers I would allow them their Swords and Baggage, and the Soldiers their Knapfacks, and gave them half an Hours Time to resolve what to do. I sent one of my Adjutants with them, to know the Governour's Resolution: He return'd immediately and told me the Governour would not agree to it: Whereupon the Hostilities were renew'd. But to Day towards Noon, the Besieged having beat a Parley agen, and sent back the 2 Officers that came out to treat with me last Night, one of which is a Collonel the other an Adjutant to the Duke of Vendome, it was agreed after some Debate that the Garrison should surrender themselves Prisoners of War. We shall take Possession of a Gate to Morrow, and the Garrison is to march out on Monday. I do my self the Honour to congratulate their High Mightinesses with all my Heart upon the Surrender of this Place. I wish and hope that the Almighty will bless more and more the Arms of the State and its high Allies, and make them victorious. My Adjutant, Lieutenant Collonel Mortaigne, is order'd to carry this News to their High Mightinesses. I remain, &c.

Auverquerque.

P. S. The Garrison consisted of 2100 Men, of which 500 were kill'd or wounded in the Siege. On our Side 8 or 900 Men have been kill'd or wounded.

Amsterdam, Oct. 8. Letters from the Camp of the Allies, dated the 4th Instant advise, that the French Garrison march'd out of Aeth that Morning, to be conducted by the Way of Audenarde to Burgenop.

2000.

zoom and Breda : In the Place were found 31 pieces of Cannon and 6 Mortars, with some Ammunition. Major General Pallant is made Governour of it.

From the Duke of Marlborough's Camp at Gramex, Oct. 7. Since the Surrender of Aeth, all the Works before that place are levell'd. The Army which was employ'd in besieging it, has made a Motion, and is now encamp'd with the Right at Molley, and the Left at Aubrey; part of the Artillery is march'd this Day towards Audenarde, in order to be embark'd for Ghent, the rest being put into Aeth. The French Army have stretch'd out their Camp, which takes up near 4 Leagues in length, the Left being at Mortagne, and the Right at Quarrachin. The Elector of Bavaria and the Duke of Vendome have their Quarters at Gonde. They have reinford'd the Garrisons of Mons and Charleroy.

London, October 4.

Yesterday arriv'd a Pacquet-Boat from Ostend, which came from thence on Tuesday, and brought Letters from Brussels dated the 11th of October (Monday) which advise, 'That the Duke of Marlborough was advanc'd with the Army to Cambrun, within 2 Leagues of Mons, that his Grace had caus'd a great Number of Pioneers to be summon'd in, and that Bread was baking at Brussels Day and Night for the Army.
